

Trusted answers. A clear next step.

Immigration questions can feel overwhelming.

Your employer's partnership with Immigrant Connection provides a simple way to connect with a qualified immigration legal professional. Ask questions, understand your options and learn what to do next.

1

Open your employer's partner page

Use the link or QR code provided by your employer. Select your workplace location if your partner page lists multiple locations.

2

Choose a consultation

Follow the existing scheduling link and choose an available appointment. Virtual or in-person options depend on your employer's partnership.

3

Meet with a trusted professional

Follow the appointment instructions, prepare your questions and bring requested documents. Your legal conversation is confidential.

Your employer's portal link goes here

In a real launch, this space holds the employer's existing partner link or a QR code and any location-specific instructions. This sample does not open a booking or collect employee information.

Questions about how to access this resource? Ask your HR team. Consultation eligibility, fees and services follow your employer's partnership. Case services and government filing fees are separate unless your employer specifies otherwise.
